

Library/S.T.E.A.M. Links

CCSD Database Links <https://sites.google.com/nv.ccsd.net/k12libraryservices/resources/databases>

CultureGrams provides wonderful information about the world. You can check out how children eat, dress, live and study in various places around the world.

World Book Online provides a plethora of information to look at and learn about. Do you need to find information about your favorite animal for your online research assignment from your teacher? This is a great place to look. This site even has games for little children that help them to learn about letters, sounds, nursery rhymes and more!

- Capstone Interactive eBooks- UN-continue PW-reading
- Go Noodle- For when your kids need to MOVE! Super fun!
- Earth Versions – Google Earth Enjoy exploring new places, virtually
- Scholastic Home Resources Day-by-day projects to keep kids reading, thinking, and growing.
- Destiny Discover-All CCSD Students can Research Topics UN-student number PW-First Name
- Mystery Science-Great “do it yourself” science projects the whole family can enjoy!
- Discover Children’s Museum-At-home ideas from our local Discovery Children’s Museum
- Storyline Online-Book read by many famous people: <https://www.storylineonline.net>

Additionally, there have been many authors and illustrators who are taking time to share their stories and illustrations with you! One of my favorite authors, Mo Willems, is posting videos on YouTube.com called Lunch Doodles with Mo Willems. He teaches how to draw some of his favorite characters.

Here is the link to his first episode: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RmzjCPQv3y8>